

IMPORTANT NOTES ABOUT OBJECTIONS TO PERMIT APPLICATIONS

What is this form used for?

To bring attention to Council the details of a planning proposal that you believe will likely affect you.

Pre-completion considerations

Be sure that Council receives your objection by the date shown on the Public Notice for the Planning Applications. All objections received prior to a Council decision will be considered (even if received after the date shown on the notice). It is strongly recommended to lodge objections as early as possible so your concerns are fully considered in the planning process.

If Council grants the permit, you may appeal against that decision. Details of the appeal procedures are set out on the information sheet you will receive with the notice of decision. An appeal to VCAT must be made on a prescribed form and be accompanied by a prescribed fee. A copy of the application to VCAT must also be given to Council.

If Council refuses the application, the applicant may also appeal. The provisions to do so are set out on the information sheet provided with the refusal of planning application issued to all parties.

Consent and conditions:

Make sure you clearly understand what is proposed before you make an objection.

Objections are made available to any person associated with the application to inspect upon request up to a decision or review date.

Copies or objections may be provided.

Council is collecting the information on this form so that it may consider your objections in accordance with the Planning and Environment Act 1987.

The personal information will be used solely by council for that primary purpose or directly related purposes.

Council may disclose this information to the applicant and their representatives, other objectors and any other parties who may have an interest in the application including Councillors.

All objectors will be notified of Council's decision.

Council may reject an objection that it considers has been made primarily to secure or maintain a direct or indirect commercial advantage for the objector. In this case, the application continues through the planning process as if the objection has not been made, pursuant to Section 57(2A) of the Planning and environment Act 1987.

Objections are public

I acknowledge that my objection and the personal information it contains cannot be treated as private or confidential, and that my objections will be made publicly available for viewing.
